FIG. 25

This is a high-contrast, black and white image showing a complex, star-like pattern. The pattern consists of numerous bright, intersecting lines and rays that radiate from several central points, creating a web-like or crystalline structure. The background is dark and filled with a fine, granular texture. The overall appearance is reminiscent of a microscopic view of a crystal, a stylized celestial map, or a high-magnification image of a biological structure.
